Fred Bonfils, a Denver business man, is said to be the angel of the McAdoo presidential boom. Mr. Bonfils is a many times millionaire, has a private theatre at his palatial residence and otherwise lives in quite a plain, democratic way.

Certainly the children of St. Louis will be careful about sparklers in connection with their Fourth of July celebrations. The coroner of St. Louis county has issued a warning about the sparkler danger. Words from such a source sound ominous.

Now it is charged that Judge Gary was one of the main forces in shaping affairs of the Republican national convention. It is said that he was housed at the Blackstone and while he did not attend the convention, he was frequently consulted by the party leaders.

Certainly men with far less wisdom, far less understanding of present day affairs, could have been consulted.

THE SUGAR QUESTION IN RETROSPECT.

Chicagoans are eating sugar purchased in Canada for which they paid about 26 cents a pound. This does not mean that there are cane plantations in Canada or that it is a great sugar beet growing country. It simply means that England bought the sugar that Cuba offered to this country at approximately 5 cents a pound.

Then part of the stock was shipped to Canada and resold in the U. S. Of course this sugar has just as much sweetening and food value as if it had been shipped direct from Cuba, but think of the difference in price.

Mark Sullivan, political specialist, says that Hoover would undoubtedly have been the Democratic party nominee if he had not eliminated himself by declaring himself a Republican.

There is no denying that Mr. Hoover would have made a formidable candidate for there were a lot of people who approve his record and believe in him. This is especially true among women. It is related that in the pre-convention days that many women voted for him in the primaries where he was not a candidate.

President Wilson, they say, has no telegraphic connection with the San Francisco convention, and is remaining in Washington "ands off." The men who make this statement in the effort to show that the president is letting affairs shape their own course at San Francisco, must think that the rest of the world is gullible.

Federal appointees and representatives of the government are in the strong majority at the convention. The lines were laid long ago. The instructions were given and now the "master mind" has no need for special wire connection.

BONDS WELL SOLD.

The board of education is fortunate indeed in securing such a favorable sale for the high school bonds. Money is acknowledged to be tight, interest rates are higher than has been the rule for years, with the result that high class bonds in many instances have gone without purchasers, and in other instances the price offered has been far below par.

When the board recently advertised the high school bonds for sale there were numerous predictions that no offers would be received from reputable bond firms. While a commission equivalent to a discount was paid, the bonds will net the board a sum not far below par. If the board had been unable to sell the bonds a bad situation would have resulted — a great building in progress and no funds available for the payment of the contractor.

GOV. LOWDEN STANDS FOR HIS PRINCIPLES.

One cannot read the announcement of Gov. Lowden that he will not be a candidate for re-election without sensing something of his strength and stability. The pressure to have the governor seek re-election has been strong, and for more than two weeks past he has been listening to the arguments of his friends who see in the situation a special demand for his candidacy.

When Gov. Lowden was elected chief executive of the state, his position meant nothing to him except the opportunity for a good record—the possibility of leaving the office with the knowledge that he had given to the state of Illinois a sound, progressive business administration.

In the early days of the administration he made known his intention of serving but one term and he has frequently reiterated that statement. It is quite in accord with the character of the man that he is found now adhering to the principles that he has laid down. He has avowed that the public official who has no thought of succeeding himself can give the more sincere and unprejudiced service to his constituents.

There is much of logic in the argument, too, it is equally true that an official schooled in experience can often excel even his own record. Public good is often subserved by re-electing officials. So while believing that the governor's objections to officers succeeding themselves are not valid in all cases, his position as regards himself commands only respect and admiration.

Gov. Lowden will leave the governorship with a record that has added to his already good name.

Coupled with the announcement of Gov. Lowden is the statement that there is a tentative agreement among present state office holders to seek re-election. Gov. Lowden will support Lieut. Gov. Oglesby for the governorship, and there is the inference that the other state officials will favor the Oglesby candidacy. The lieutenant governor bears a name historic in the public affairs of Illinois and he has served with credit to himself and the state.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

MEXICO.

Old Mexico's been aching a long and weary time; and every day, on breaking, rings in new curves in crime; her trumps of war are tooting, her heroes cally, and shooting as I produce this rhyme. She springs a brand new ruler, arrayed in brass and plush; next he's in the cooler or sprinting for the brush; avengers hike behind him, as "traitors" they've defined him, and balls and buckshot grind him and halt his frenzied grind. Old Mexico is plastered with wealth of every sort, and if the chumps were mastered who paw around and snort, she well might be lap-sided with "profits undivided," her robes would be provided with diamonds by the quart. Her hills are full of rubies, her plains are rich with grass; her fiery, martial boobies might raise fine garden sass; they find a pleasure greater in chasing some cheap traitor, to seat some "liberator" attired in plush and brass. Old Mexico was scrapping before the world war's start; and still her men are yapping and shooting up the mart; the way they're raising thunder and treading chances under boosting senseless plunder would break a sae man's heart.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

PASTORS OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

In this series of papers, there was published in the Daily Journal of Feb. 25, 1915, an account of the buildings of the First Presbyterian church of Jacksonville. The sketch was illustrated by pictures of the original building dedicated by the society, June 19, 1831; that of the church of 1847, burned Dec. 1, 1861, and of the edifice dedicated Jan. 6, 1867, burned Sept. 6, 1883. The first named, a little frame building, stood at the northwest corner of State and Church streets, and was moved back on the same lot and fronted east, about 1873, and it is still there. The other two buildings, of brick, stood on the lot where the Journal office now is. The lot being at the southeast corner of State and West streets.

In the descriptive history of these buildings more or less reference was made to the pastors under whom they were built, namely, Rev. John M. Ellis, Rev. Chauncey Eddy, and Rev. Livingston M. Glover, D. D., in the order of time here given.

This First Church was organized by the Rev. John Brich, June 30, 1827, just ninety-three years ago.

Father Brich was one of the earliest Presbyterian missionary workers of Illinois, as this organization was the first in the "Sangamo Country"—Cass and Scott counties being then a part of Morgan, and there being then no society in Sangamon. The only Presbyterian church, north of Alton at that time being the Apple Creek church of Greene county.

The church here was named the First Presbyterian church of Morgan county, the latter part of the name being subsequently changed to "of Jacksonville."

The First Pastor was the Rev. Jno. M. Ellis, a leader in the organization of Illinois College, who was installed in 1828, and his ministry to it ended in 1831.

Dr. Glover preached an historical sermon, June 30, 1877, commemorating the semi-centennial of the church, and much of the information in this article is derived from that sermon.

In the sermon Dr. Glover said: "Who could have foretold that within three years of the founding of the church, a College and a Female Seminary would spring up near it, as it were from the same planting, in the same identical root. Yet this took place, and just in that line of connection and dependence. In the teeming brain of Mr. Ellis, the first pastor, those enterprises originated, and they sustained a vital relation to the efforts not forth at that early day to establish and extend all right principles and interests in this great Valley of the West; nor can it be doubted that much has been done by these means to aid in that historic development which it is the effort of this sermon to pursue and unfold."

In 1877 there were fourteen Presbyterian organizations in this region sprung from the "Old First."

Rev. Alfred H. Dashiell was the second pastor, installed in December, 1835. He was a fine man, highly thought of, but he only remained until Oct. 12, 1836. December 12, 1837, Rev. Ralph

W. Gridley was chosen pastor, and installed April 25, 1838. He died on the 2nd of February, 1840, much lamented by his people, among whom his ministry had been greatly blessed of God."

The Rev. Wm. H. Williams was installed May 8th, 1842. In September of 1843 he resigned to become Principal of Jacksonville Female Academy, and he held that position very usefully for several years."

The Rev. Chauncey Eddy was installed June 3, 1844, natal anniversary of the church. He remained until the spring of 1848, "and accomplished much good." Speaking of the church of 1847, the finest building for religious purposes which had been built here, Dr. Glover said: "It was erected during the pastorate, and largely through the indefatigable labors of Rev. Chauncey Eddy."

The Rev. L. M. Glover succeeded Mr. Eddy, being installed Nov. 19th, 1848. This pastorate was terminated by the death of Dr. Glover, July 15, 1880—the longest pastorate term the organization knew.

Dr. Glover said, in his historical sermon: "On the 4th of August, 1844, the corner stone of the edifice in which we now worship was laid with appropriate ceremonies, and in the midst of great rejoicings. It was dedicated on the 6th of January, 1867, within a few months of being forty years after the original organization. Its cost was about sixty thousand dollars, and as to comeliness, completeness and all fitting adaptability to the ends of public worship, it speaks for itself. * * *

This building had the town clock in it, and again the "Old First" had the finest home here.

Dr. Glover was written up in these sketches, in the Daily Journal of July 1, 1915, and his family in the issue of July 8, 1915, pictures of Dr. Glover and his late residence, and of his son, L. B. Glover, former editor of the Journal, being given.

The Rev. John R. Sutherland, D. D. succeeded Mr. Glover, being called October 3, 1880. Dr. Sutherland was a man of ability and a pleasant gentleman. He remained until his resignation, June 22, 1884. Meantime the church burned, Sept. 6, 1883, and Dr. Sutherland lost his library in the study, in that building.

The congregation bought the lot at the northeast corner of State and Church streets, disposing of the old site so long occupied by it, and began the erection of the handsome edifice now standing at the corner of Church street.

By a union of the congregations of the First Church and of the Central Presbyterian church, a new organization was made in 1885, called State Street Presbyterian church, of which the Rev. A. B. Morey, D. D., became pastor, serving many years as such.

Dr. Sutherland became one of the secretaries of the Board of Relief and Sustentation of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, after a pastorate in Burlington, Iowa.

Dr. Sutherland occupied the office in Philadelphia, until his death, about two years ago.

Farm Bureau Notes

17 Year Locust or Cicada—W. P. Flint, Chief Field Entomologist of the State of Illinois is responsible for the following statements.

These insects are abundant over parts of the state this year, and will probably continue abundant in the adult stage for about one month from the time that they first put in their appearance.

The 17-year species differs somewhat from the ordinary annual or dog-day cicada which we have with us every year and the cry of the male insect is distinctly different.

As you probably know the 17-year locust lays its eggs in punctures made in the twigs of trees often seriously injuring young apple orchards by causing the ends of twigs to break off. The young on hatching from the eggs immediately drop to and burrow in the ground, where they live for 13 or 17 years, sucking the sap from small roots. The injuries caused by the insect is almost entirely from their egg-laying habits, altho the adults may, if extremely abundant, cause a slight damage to newly set orchards.

There is no effective means of control other than screening young trees with mosquito bar.

A few of the adults may be killed by spraying early in the morning or late in the evening with five per cent kerosene emulsion. It is useless to try to apply this insecticide during the day, as the adults are so active they will fly out of the trees before they can be hit with the spray, and it is only those insects that are wet with it that are killed by this solution. There will probably be another brood which will be abundant in your vicinity in 1922.

DON'T BE DECEIVED BY THE WORD "PURITY"

You hear, read or are told that this, that or the other toilet soap is made of pure ingredients. Maybe it is. But that's not enough.

You might make up a batch of jelly—of pure grape juice—of pure sugar. But if those ingredients came in contact with impurities—they cease to be pure.

It is just the same with toilet soap. The manufacturers of Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap see into have found the final solution of positive soap purity.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap—as many other Toilet Soaps—is made of the purest of soap ingredients. To protect those ingredients against all forms of impurities with which they might come in contact, the combined ingredients are sterilized at 198 degrees Fahrenheit.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap possesses the only kind of purity that means anything at all to soap users—it is pure when used.

This positive soap purity quickly makes itself known in improved complexion beauty—a delightful skin coloring and velvety skin texture.

This extreme purity, high excellence of cleansing quality and precaution against impurity adds nothing to the cost of this Toilet Soap.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap can be procured from your dealer at the same price asked for toilet soaps that can not give you the same degree of purity or the same pleasing results.—Adv.

NOMINATING SPEECHES WILL BE THE ORDER OF BUSINESS AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION TODAY

another each succeeding the preceding one in volume as he scored the Republicans of the senate for their course toward the peace treaty and the league of nations. He referred to the fact that President Wilson had been assailed for not taking some Republican senators with him on the American peace mission at Paris. "If they couldn't have shown any more capacity and ability in negotiating the treaty than they have shown in their consideration of it," he shouted, "then Almighty God bless Woodrow Wilson for not taking them along to Europe. It was a bulls-eye shot and the audience acknowledged the hit by rising and going in for a succession of shouts.

"Hit 'em some more," shouted voices from the galleries and the delegates.

Cheer Robinson.

Robinson wound up with a league of nations peroration that brought the audience to its feet cheering and with three cheers for "Joe Robinson."

The permanent chairman's first announcement was that the report of the rules committee would be received. It was presented by Thomas J. Spellacy of Connecticut.

The rules proposed that nominating speeches could be delivered while the platform committee was at work but that no balloting for presidential nominees could proceed until after the platform committee had been presented and adopted. There was no opposition to that order of business and the report was adopted. Nominating speeches were limited to twenty minutes and seconding speeches were limited to ten minutes and are not to exceed five in number.

The resolution which permits the breaking of the unit rule in some states was presented by the rules committee and with scattering noises it was adopted. An expected fight from the New York delegation on the issue did not materialize.

A resolution of thanks to the people of San Francisco for their hospitality was also adopted.

Limit Representation.

Representative Flood of Virginia offered a resolution to direct the national committee to limit representation in the next national convention to same basis as representation in congress.

It proposed to include delegates from the Panama canal zone with the delegates from other territories.

The resolution was long and involved, few of the delegates understood it and there was seconds to a motion to refer it to the resolutions committee. The ayes and noes were both loud and a rising vote was called for.

Confusion followed and the resolution was ordered, read again.

It finally passed on an aye and no vote. It was merely a resolution to provide for the next convention.

Mrs. Alice F. McCullough of Ft. Wayne, Ind., the first woman to be heard in the convention offered the prepared resolution to double the size of the national committee and make a place for one woman from each state.

It had previously been approved by the national committee. A Pennsylvania delegate moved that the resolution go back to the resolutions committee and got several seconds. The ayes got it by the chair's decision.

A point of order also was made against it which was sustained by the chair and the resolution went back to the committee.

Chairman Cummings wanted to make an announcement and Chairman Robinson recognized him as the delegate from Connecticut.

He got the resolution for women national committee places back before the convention for further consideration.

Mr. Cummings explained it was only the formal resolution creating the committee for another four years and taking in women members.

"If the Democratic party is in earnest," said he, "in taking in the women of country in deliberations it ought to support this resolution and adopt it."

The convention adopted the resolution by a heavy majority of ayes and only a few noes.

Mrs. Gavin McNab of San Francisco took the platform at that point. She was wearing her hat and a delegate called from the floor, "hats off."

She smiled, removing her turban while the audience applauded began reading a message to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson from "the women of the land."

It was one of women's appreciation for care and devotion to the president during his illness.

The convention voted to send the women's message.

With that the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Late in Assembling.

One o'clock the assembling hour came and passed and as usual the convention was not ready for business. Delegates were arriving rapidly, however, and the galleries were better filled than yesterday. Most of the leaders and managers were busy in the upper rooms of the big building working with the committeemen.

The band and pipe organ filled in the time and the song leaders got into action to amuse the gathering crowd. Popular airs sprinkled with patriotic airs and invariably winding up with "Dixie," never failed to bring out the inevitable rebel yell from the southern delegations. The platform too was slow in filling with the usual notables. With some of the delegates they had been cruising around San Francisco Bay as guests of the city and were slow getting back. Fifteen minutes more and the convention gave no more signs of being ready to start up. Delegates jammed the aisles chatting and laughing and applauding the efforts of the singers and the musicians. Today's session was expected to be another each succeeding the preceding one in volume as he scored the Republicans of the senate for their course toward the peace treaty and the league of nations. ing him on calling a special session of the legislature to consider ratification of the woman suffrage amendment. Mr. Cummings recognized Governor Smit of New York. Smith said demands that he take the platform but which he ignored, moved that the telegram be sent. There were shouts of no from Georgia and other southern delegations on the question but the telegram went.

"There is another announcement which I am a little reluctant in making," said Chairman Cummings.

"It is that the state law requires the removal of the hats of the ladies at public gatherings." Several thousand hats came out and several million dollars worth of hats came off while the men of the convention did a good laugh.

The report of the committee on permanent organization came next and was presented by Former Governor Ralston of Indiana. His announcement of the choice of Senator Robinson as permanent chairman drew a loud round of applause as did the announcements that other temporary officers would be made permanent.

WILL NOT URGE

EARLIER SESSION
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—Women advocates of equal suffrage decided today not to attempt to induce Governor Roberts of Tennessee to advance the date of his proposed call of a special session of his legislature to consider ratification of the federal suffrage amendment but rather to urge that he issue the formal call immediately. He has said he would call the session for August 9.

Democratic women delegates at a caucus tonight left the advisability of advancing the call to the women members of the Tennessee delegation and they vetoed the proposal. They decided, however, to urge upon the legislature the wisdom of ratifying the amendment.

Suffragists, he added, by Mrs. Abbey Scott Baker said that they were satisfied with August 9 as the date for the call if the formal call were issued at once. They insisted, however, that the issuance of the call was most important.

The greatest fear of the suffragists now is that Republican members of the Tennessee legislature may block ratification of the amendment as did Democratic members in Delaware. To thwart they say, they will throw their strongest forces into Tennessee immediately.

Members of the North Carolina delegation today wired the governor of their state and members of the legislature an urgent request to take immediate action on the amendment. A letter writing campaign will follow.

IS WELL AND HAPPY AFTER TWENTY YEARS

Had Lost Faith in All Medicines—Now Regrets She Did Not Take Tanlac Sooner.

"After twenty years of suffering I am at last a well and happy woman, and it's all because of the splendid results I have gotten from Tanlac," was the statement made by Mrs. John Carmack of 404 East Jackson street, Bloomington, Ill.

"Twenty years ago my health began to fail, and I gradually grew worse until a short time ago I suffered a complete nervous breakdown and was simply a wreck. I had indigestion so bad that I was almost afraid to eat anything. My stomach pained me nearly all the time and I would bloat up with gas something awful. Sometimes my whole body seemed racked with pain and I was in such agony I could hardly stand it. I could retain scarcely a thing on my stomach, and as a result I lost strength and energy until it was an effort for me to get around. My nerves were in a dreadful condition and any unusual noise would upset me terribly. I simply could not sleep to do any good and every morning I got up worn completely out. I had lost faith in all medicine as I had tried so many without getting relief and I felt that I would have to give up entirely.

"I heard about Tanlac nearly a year ago, and a short time ago when one of my friends recommended it to me so highly I made up my mind to give it a trial. And now my only regret is that I didn't take it a year ago, for it has restored my health completely and after all these years of suffering I am now a well woman. My appetite is just splendid and it makes no difference at all what I eat I can digest it. I never have a pain or ache of any kind and I am not at all nervous or restless. My sleep is sound and refreshing and on mornings I get up feeling just fine and ready to attend to my housework. My friends are all surprised to see how I have changed and I never fail to tell them that Tanlac did it."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve and by the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arecine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arecine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

MONROE TROTTER IN STRONG ADDRESS

Talked to a Large Audience at Emory Baptist Church Tuesday Evening—Told of Efforts of Colored People to Get Recognition in Peace Conference.

Monroe Trotter of Boston delivered a lengthy address at the Bethel A. M. E. church last night to a large and appreciative audience on the effort of the colored people to secure representation at the Versailles conference.

He told how the present generation had lived thru the greatest epoch in the history of mankind and how the white race had called in the colored race to help save civilization and had found them not only loyal but intensely patriotic.

As the war wore on there was need for an expression of the aim and this was found in "democracy," a fight for the under man, this Mr. Trotter likened to the fight of the negroes for equal rights.

Before the war was over the leaders of the colored races deemed it wise to form an organization which would be ready to present the claims of the American colored race and make a fight for them. For this purpose a convention was called in Washington and delegates were elected to the Versailles conference. Mr. Trotter mentioned that the Jews in the United States elected delegates, the Irish elected delegates, and the women elected delegates, all of which secured passports and appeared in Paris at the conference but that the negro delegation alone was refused the papers necessary to leave the United States.

Of the ten negro delegates, Mr. Trotter alone did not apply because as he said he was "in bad" with the white house as the result of a former conference with the president.

Mr. Trotter told in detail of his efforts in New York to secure passage as a cook or deckhand and how he was repeatedly blocked and his efforts thwarted.

He finally secured a place on a small yacht and arrived in France and eventually at the peace table in Versailles, where he presented the amendment which the colored convention in Washington had addressed to the world.

JACKSONVILLE ATHLETICS ACCEPTS CHALLENGE.

"According to a statement issued in last evening's Courier by Manager May of the State Hospital baseball nine, against the Jacksonville Athletics in regards to the cancelling of the game which was supposed to have been played on the state hospital diamond Tuesday evening, we, the manager and president, of the said athletics wish to announce to the general public that such statements were false and unfounded."

It is true that we found it necessary to cancel the game Tuesday evening, but was not that we were afraid of being defeated. Altho Mr. May seems to be under the opinion that it was for that reason that we cancelled such game.

We wish to state that the real and only reason were, owing to the fact that one of our regulars was in Hannibal, Mo., at the time and also that three more of our regulars found it impossible to leave their positions, and, further more, we knew that if we played the state hospital team, and most probably defeated them, with any other men in our lineup than our regulars, they would probably declare "that they were not defeated by the Athletics, but by some men further advanced than the Athletic players, employed by said Athletic team for the purpose of strengthening that team enough to defeat the state hospital nine."

Now we wish also to announce that we are ready to accept any challenge issued by the State Hospital nine, providing it is within our power to do so.

Furthermore, according to the lineup of the State Hospital's team in last evening's Courier, we will guarantee to put up a good game, and, if possible defeat their team thereby keeping the record that they mentioned so freely last evening, clean and unbeaten.

John H. Blesse, president.
J. W. Zell, manager.

STOLEN MAIL POUCH FOUND YESTERDAY

Was Discovered by Merle and Wallace Moore on Moore Dairy Farm in North Part of City—Nearly all of Mail Recovered.

Merle and Wallace Moore found the pouch of mail which was stolen from a truck at the Wabash station early Tuesday morning in a ditch on the Moore dairy farm in the north part of the city Tuesday afternoon.

The boys were plowing corn at the time and discovered the pouch in a ditch between the corn field and a field of oats. Their father, W. J. Moore, immediately notified Postmaster Dunlap and the pouch was taken to the post office.

The pouch had been cut open and the mail was scattered about on the ground. Some of the letters had been opened, indicating the thieves were looking for money. However, many of the packages had not been untied. The pouch contained eastern mail and the employees of the local office were able to dispatch most of the mail last night.

While the police and postal authorities have been working on the case, so far no clue has been obtained. Indications, however, point to local talent.

When the mail is taken to the stations it is placed on a truck just outside the ticket office window and is always visible. The driver of the mail wagon, Mr. Beerup, did this Tuesday morning and the operator puts the mail aboard the train. Operator Glaze was on duty Tuesday morning and noticed there were two pouches of first class mail.

While the train came in the mail clerk got out of the car and took the first class pouch aboard. The operator then told him there should be two pouches as he had seen them on the truck.

Search was made about the platform but the pouch could not be found. Operator Glaze telephoned to the postoffice and was told two pouches were sent. The police were notified and took up the search but the pouch was not found until Tuesday afternoon.

When George Stevenson invented the locomotive, all the forces of incredulity that ignore; the conservatism that hates; the ridicule that mocks what is new, were brought to bear to oppose his great invention. The same spirit of mockery, opposition and criticism has confronted practically every new and worthy idea.

CHIROPRACTIC UNDER FIRE

Those who accepted disease and suffering as a natural part of life's experience, laughed and scoffed when Chiropractic first launched the idea that ill health was unnatural and the direct result of spinal pressure on the nerves, which shut off the life forces of the body. And they ridiculed the idea that by simple Chiropractic spinal adjustments, without drugs or knife, this pressure could be relieved, the cause of disease corrected and normal conditions, health restored.

But in the face of it all, Chiropractic has advanced because it has proved it is right. Thousands who formerly suffered are now enjoying health through the aid of and it is rapidly being accepted as the logical, most effective drugless Health science of the ages. If you are not enjoying good health, give Chiropractic (KI-RO-PRAC-TIC) a fair, open-minded investigation and prove its value to you and your loved ones.

GREENE COUNTY CROP
SITUATION REPORTED

Wheat Cutting Now in Progress
—All Vegetation Badly in Need of Rain—Labor Situation
Relieved.

White Hall, June 29.—With only 0.81 of an inch of rain so far this month vegetation is becoming backward, and today's observation fails to reveal any immediate prospects for rain. The rainfall so far this month is divided as follows: 1st, 0.05; 2nd, 0.51; 21st, 0.20; 22nd, 0.05.

The locusts are leaving after damaging trees to no little extent, their ravages extending to both young and old fruit trees, and their presence leaves a mark in the great apple districts of this territory. They burrow along the limb from the outer end for a foot or more as with a needle, and such parts of the limb are ruined, but the aggregate will not seriously alter prospects for a normal apple crop. One local observer has noted the presence of the 13-year locusts every thirteen years in June since 1868.

Wheat cutting is now in progress over this section, and will be general by the last of the week. The first cutting reported is on the Sandridge along the Illinois river last Friday. The condition is averaging from good to as low as seven bushels to the acre. The Tanner eighty acres northwest of White Hall will average ten bushels, and James Pratt's fifty acres southwest will average twelve bushels. The result is that our previous estimates of 80 as to the condition must suffer a still farther reduction, as the general condition is now figured as below 70 for this section of Greene county at least, and equally discouraging reports come from points all over the county.

The first crop of alfalfa hay has been cut, and the condition shows a good average. The second cut is nearly ready. There is an average crop of clover hay, and timothy is light.

Some of the corn is ready to be laid by, while in other fields the corn is not up, showing the varying stages of development. Some of the quick maturing corn was planted near Roodhouse last week. A rain would cause a wonderful heave on the part of corn not yet up. Some of the corn has had to be planted over because of root louse or other insects, and in this way the effects of the insects have been largely overcome. The condition is fair.

All vegetation is badly in need of rain. Raspberries and blackberries are drying up. The condition of pastures has been good but are showing evidences of failure. Late potatoes are regarded as a failure, and early potatoes will be doing well to exceed half a crop.

There is a good crop of rye, and cutting began Saturday on Gregory farm, but in this particular piece there has been considerable damage by fly and chinch bugs. What has matured is unusually good, and Mr. Corsa thinks he will get some good seed from it. There is a larger acreage of rye than usual, having been quite an agitation locally in its favor for the past few years, but a good deal of it is planted for pasturage instead of for the grain.

With the harvest season at hand, the labor situation is greatly relieved by cessation of operations at the White Hall clay works enabling the men to get into the harvesting fields. The works suspended are confined to the properties of the White Hall Sewer Pipe & Stove Co., whose employees demand an increase of 10c on the hourly wage, and pending a settlement the farmers are getting all the help needed. The car situation is figuring in plans for resumption of the sewer pipe and the drain tile plants, as the railroad situation is rather discouraging, and for some time there has been difficulty in securing sufficient coal.

BlueBird Electric Clothes Washer

Clothes last five times longer when washed the BlueBird way. It is the rubbing and scrubbing of clothes over corrugations of the old washboard that wears clothes out. That is why you never put your fine dainty garments on the rub-board as it would ruin them. Bluebird washes the same way as you wash your Georgette waist—dipping clothes into warm soapy water. In ten to fifteen minutes all traces of soil, grease and dirt are flushed away. Bluebird Electric Clothes Washer puts your week's washing "On the line by nine." It gives you absolute divorce from washing worries.

See These BlueBird Superiorities

Everything enclosed in the cabinet—no moving parts exposed. So completely safe to operate that children can be left alone while it is running.

The extra big tub is genuine heavy copper—inside perfectly smooth—no holes or projections—nothing to catch buttons or tear delicate lace.

Highest grade, swinging wringer, operated by motor. Adjusts automatically to take finest laces as well as heaviest things.

The frame is built like a bridge—strongest and most rigid washing machine frame possible to make—cannot get out of line from abuse.

The motor has more than enough power to run washer and wringer at same time. Highest grade water-proof motor—guaranteed.

Costs no more to buy than ordinary washing machine. Costs no more to operate than two cents an hour.

The BlueBird Electric Clothes Washer and Wringer is the most perfect development of the most perfect principle of washing clothes.

Its oscillating principle is recognized as the quickest and most thorough method of washing clothes harmlessly.

BlueBird washes a tubful of soiled clothes in a few minutes—does the average family washing in about an hour.

BlueBird washes daintiest garments without the slightest wear or tear. Clothes washed by BlueBird wear five times as long when washed on a rub-board.

The handsome BlueBird cabinet, with table top, is pure white enamel. Door in one side opens for draining tub.

Paying What's Fair

THE average American is fair-minded. He prefers to pay his way and ask no favors.

People have no objection to paying the right price for a commodity once they know what the right price is.

The right price for gasoline is based first, on the cost of crude oil; second, on the cost of refining; and third, on the cost of distributing the refined product.

During the war prices were fixed by Governmental demand rather than by natural law.

The very low prices obtaining in 1915 were due to two causes—first, to ultra-conservatism due to uncertainty; second, to the spectacular production of oil in the Cushing fields, a production which dwindled almost as magically as it increased.

Since the Armistice the cost of every item entering into the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum products, has increased to an unprecedented degree. The production of crude petroleum has not kept pace with the demand. This has caused fierce competition for such crude oil as is obtainable. This competition has forced the price of crude up until it is costing the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), f. o. b. Whiting, $4.30 a barrel, as against $2.92 on Nov. 11, 1918—an increase of 47 percent.

Yet in the same period gasoline advanced in price but 24 percent.

Only through the efficiency of large scale refinery practice and through advanced scientific processes of extracting an ever increasing percentage of gasoline from the crude oil, has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) been able to hold gasoline prices down to present levels, and still yield a fair return to its 4799 stockholders.

It is generally conceded in the petroleum industry that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is operating on the closest margin possible.
